

During the Roadmap's closing event in Brussels, a state of play on the prevention of carcinogens will be presented as well as the achievements of the Roadmap, according to its different pillars and challenges.

The Roadmap partners will look back on how the journey started, what happened and what was realised during their voyage. They will also reflect on where we are now and what still needs to be done, especially regarding the way in which the Roadmap's achievements can be further consolidated and implemented into practice.
